

8th October 2024

Dear parents and carers,

We are excited to invite you into school to take part in a special workshop designed to support your child's reading journey at home. As part of the work by Ilsham National English Hub and the Early Years South West Stronger Practice Hub, we are offering a free session that will provide practical ideas and strategies for encouraging a love of reading within your family. This will be delivered online but we are opening up school for you to attend in person so that we can share ideas and engage in discussion as to what this can look like at home for you and your children.

Ready, Steady, Read!

Date: 19th November

Time: 2-3pm

Platform: Zoom and in school

We are thrilled to have Professor Teresa Cremin and Kelly Ashley from The Open University's Reading for Pleasure Team leading this session. They will share valuable insights and fun, creative ways to make reading an enjoyable experience at home. You'll also receive practical tips on how to make the most of local library services and other useful resources to support your child's literacy development. This is a wonderful opportunity to learn more about how you can positively influence your child's reading journey, while strengthening the connection between home and school.

Please complete the attached Microsoft form to book your place at the workshop but clicking on this link <https://forms.office.com/e/2FVh7k4hAG>.
